FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

March Madness at the Somerset Inn

Contact: Pam Holland (248) 643-7800

Troy, MI, March 7, 2007- What does 400 pre-teen dancers, NCAA championship wrestlers, American Red Cross “Hero” award recipients and a rap artist have in common? They all choose Somerset Inn to accommodate their specific needs while visiting Southeastern Michigan.

Somerset Inn is a recently updated hotel that has proven its adaptable space and excellent customer service can harbor multiple events in harmony without disturbing each other or other guests.

The rambunctious 400 “tiny dancers” sashay their glittery tutus across the boundless 7,200 sq. ft. Grand Ballroom while an additional 13 meeting rooms buzz with corporate events, parties and other meetings.

The steady stream of characters is putting Somerset Inn to the test, in what has shaped up to be a record-breaking month for the hotel. The diverse groups of guests, special requests and their emphasis on customer service have the award-winning staff hopping.

“While each of our unique guests enjoys a pleasantly uneventful stay, there’s never a dull moment behind the scenes” says Pam Holland, Director of Sales and Marketing.

Somerset Inn represents a new breed of hotels – offering modern, chic and highly adaptable accommodations with all the usual perks such as par 3 golf courses, a business center and an adjacency to a variety of upscale shopping.

Somerset Inn is situated off I-75 on Big Beaver Road in the center of Troy's business and financial district and a short drive from downtown Detroit. For more information about Somerset Inn and its services, please contact Pam Holland at sales@somersetinn.com or visit www.somersetinn.com.
